

What IS Design ?

"The envisioning of a system BEFORE it is built"

Can be done at start (before anything is built)

Or before each phase of implementation (agile !)

Doing it at the end, after everything is built...

Is all too tempting !

But circumvents many benefits of doing design...

Why do Design ?

People often think of design as boring documentation
But it is much more than that !

It's a thought process...

Good to think before we blaze into doing something

It's a communication process...

It's good to express what you are planning to build
(to show to client and everyone in the dev. team)
